Col. Theodore Roosevelt in his opening speech in the State campaign at Yonkers at noon to-day admitted District-Attorney Charles S. Whitman, the Republican candidate for Governor, into full membership in the Ananias C.). He devoted much of his speech to Mr. Whitman, whom he accused o. inconsistency and insincerity.

The opening gun of the campaign revealed that the Progressives plau to make Mr. Whitman and James W. Wadsworth, the Republican Senate candidate, the target for their heavy attacks, touching upon Gov. Glyna only incidentally and saying nothing at all about Ambassaster James W. Gerard, the Democratic candidate for United States Senator.

Germans Break Through Outer Ring of Antwerp Forts-Portugal May Enter War on Side of Allies-Kaiser's Lines of Communications Safe-Both Sides Reinforced.

PARIS, Oct. 5 [United Press].—That the battle between the German right and the French left north of the Olse River continues to increase in vigor was admitted in the 3 o'clock official communique issued this afternoon. And it was also stated in decisive terms that the outcome of this violent battle continues uncertain because of the fact that both sides are being constantly reinforced.

.The official communication said: "On our left wing, to the north of Oise, the battle comtinues with great violence. The result remains indecisive We have been obliged, at certain points, to cede ground.

"Along the remainder of the front there has been no

They are fighting here to keep their offensive alive. When forced to retreat-and every military official here declares they eventually must give way or tannihilated—they will have to retire entirely from France

Because of the blow this would give their fighting spirit. the Germans are pouring every available man into the fight on the west. If Von Boehm and Von Kluck give way the absolutely impregnable entrenched German centre would be immediately open to an attack from the rear, and it must

The Germans have, for the time bei The Germans have, for the time being, lifted the danger to their line of communication. They have driven the ailles back at the points where they have striven desperately to reach the railway line over which the German reinforcements and supplies are rushed.

If the allies could have cut it they would have delivered a death blow to Von Kluck and Von Boehm. But they have been forced back in the neighborhood of St. Quentin, and from there south to the beginning of the "fish hook" curve of the German line.

The allies, however, have the railway line which parallels that held by the Germans, and extending from Amlens to Arras, at which point it turns to the east and finally pierces the German line at Valenciennes and Mons.

The extreme French left is operating along this line in the direction of the last two named points.

The allies are in touch with the Belgian positions Western Belgium through the line that connects with the Amiens railroad at Arras and runs via Poual and Lib
